Down the Line. 2017. Medium: Single colour lithograph .Paper size: 41.5 x 40 cm

Image size: 23.8 x 22.5 cm. Edition size: 20

This print offers a glimpse into the quiet moments of pause within the city of Cape Town. Working from my her own sketches and photographs, Georgina aimed to show an insider's view of the well-documented tourist city. Cape Town is a place of many contrasts and one of these is between severe concrete architecture and picturesque mountains and beaches.

We see this contrast in the lithograph Down The Line, between the forest at the foot of the mountain and the bridge and highway of De Waal Drive. The familiar view is usually glimpsed while passing by either through vehicle window or moving through the city on foot – but is held still here for the viewer to contemplate.
